Modelithics Signs Tactron Elektronik as New Sales Representative for Germany, Austria and Switzerland

Tampa, Florida (June 21, 2013) – Modelithics announces a new partnership with Tactron Elektronik in Martinsried, Germany for Modelithics library sales and services representation. Larry Dunleavy, President and CEO of Modelithics, and Georg Schmidt, President of Tactron Elektronik, have signed a representation and reseller agreement for new business in Germany, Switzerland and Austria. Tactron will offer sales and coordination of support for Modelithics' exceptional RF and microwave simulation models and measurement services in the representation area. Larry Dunleavy, President of Modelithics had this to say: "This will be an easy transition for us and our customers in this region as the main support person, Achim Baier, from our previous reseller in this region, will be joining Tactron. Tactron also represents a number of Modelithics Vendor Partners and represents a very good fit for servicing customers interested in improving their simulation results using Modelithics models."
